County Approves Pipeline for Intrusion Wells

The County Board of Supervisors this week put its official okay on a contract to the Cannel Company of Los Angeles for installation of a feeder pipeline to furnish Metropolitan water from the West Basin to fresh water injection wells. A low bid of $45,201.80 was approved by the Board and the job is expected to be completed by Dec. 1. Plans call for pumping of fresh water into underground wells in a move to barricade the intrusion of sea water into natural storage basins. Pressures sufficient to restrict the seepage of sea water will be built up in the undersurface wells by the intrusion process, officials said.

Carson Cracker Barrel

Well, the lid's off the barrel, are hoping to meet many of so let's dip right in and pull out a salty one! It's back to school for more than a thousand youngsters at Carson St. with the first, second, third and part of the fourth grade on half-day sessions. It's hard to believe that a year ago there were only 565 children registered there when school opened. This community is growing like the proverbial "weed." However, everything is running smoothly; the kids and teachers take it all in stride—it's only us poor parents who are confused!

Milk will be available again this year for snack-time, but it will be 6 cents a carton, or 30 cents weekly. The clerk asks that all parents who desire their children to have milk send correct change with them. She explains that the milk money is collected immediately after school takes up and that the funds for the morning and afternoon sessions are kept separately, and can only be collected at that time.

Mrs. Wallace, principal at Carson St., notes that the elementary principals of Group 5 will meet with Alice Mahoney, supervisor of fifth and sixth grades at the school this morning at 8:30.

Mrs. Ted Carter, toyarian for Carson St., will have toy-loan open 12 until 1 o'clock each Tuesday and Friday. In case you didn't know, your child may borrow toys just as we borrow books from a library. His card must be signed by his parents. . . have him either bring a card home for signature, or go down and sign it at the toy-loan. Mrs. Carter has a nice assortment of toys and the kids really enjoy them. Needless to say, any child in the school can direct you to toy-loan bungalow!

The newest and proudest group in the school is holding its first party! All the kindergarten children wish to invite their mothers to a tea to be held in Room 2, at 10:30 a.m. next Monday. Incidentally, this is a postponement, the tea was to have been Friday. Mrs. Claypool and Mrs. Curry, who teach these smallest of the small-fry.

Reflections

By J. HUGH SHERFEY, JR.
ROSEMARY HAS WINDOWS

John Grant, a Motorcycle Officer, was curious. No human being should live in a shack like that, he thought. He stopped, rapped on the wall. There was no door, window, heat, nor modern convenience. Inside he found Rosemary, in a plaster cast, and her brave mother. He told a reporter. Money, by the buckets-full, poured in. A Sanitarium took Rosemary and neighbors took her mother while skilled mechanics worked day and night, on their own time, with materials sent by Lumber Yards, Building Contractors, Plumbing concerns, Painters. Men swarmed around and over that new home. Two weeks later Rosemary came back to a new home, with a white fence, porch, doors, windows, ample heat and heat of all, a modern bathroom. "Gosh!" she exclaimed. "Windows! Now I can see out." Rosemary and her mother have a new home but what have each of those who gave money, materials, time and skill? Each of them has a mansion where conscience dwells; like magic, the pride and joy and supreme happiness of that bedfast girl and steadfast mother are reflected on the walls of their conscience-mansion. They gave a little, what they received is much; sunshine, song and rapture will fill their hearts all the days of their lives.

past 22200 Grace St., and a suddenly commanded to "Get on up!" just relax, pardner! That diminutive flashily dressed cowboy is not the "Carson Kid," but just young Charlie Linn trying out his birthday finery. He reaped all this loot when he was five years old last week, and all his relatives gathered to help celebrate the occasion. Even the cake wore cowboy candies! These on hand to help cut it were Mr. and Mrs. A. Heinz, Mr. and Mrs. Betty Miller, maternal grandmother of Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. Danny Ponso and little Danny, and, of course, mother and dad, Charlie and Betty Linn, and sister Barbara.

June Lewis and girls Barbara and Betty (Rendel) took themselves off to the mountains at Springville to visit Mrs. Lewis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Art Johnson. They had a wonderful time and found time to go to the fair at Tulare. Also visiting the northern part of our fair state were Mr. and Mrs. James Lutten and family, who went to San Francisco for a visit with relatives.

Web-Foot Prints Furnish No Clue

Sarah Benjamin, of 3502 Torrance Blvd., is searching for some wandering ducks, nine of them. She reported to police that the quackers suddenly turned up missing Thursday, and she believes someone might have stolen them. Officers said footprints (webbed, that is) led around the house, up to Torrance Blvd., and then stopped—but no ducks. Mrs. Benjamin valued her ducks at $13.50.
